

Relative importance of running activity function effects across clubs

Note: percentages indicate the extent to which effects determine whether actors make changes in their running attributes (i.e., frequency and volume). Percentages indicate the importance of model parameters relative to one another. They should not be interpreted as absolute